It may be divided into governments, provinces, and districts. It may also be divided according to the nations which inhabit it. The one of these methods is that of choreography; the other, that of ethnography. We usually begin with the first. In the present instance we shall begin with the last, as an order fitted to impart both greater clearness and greater interest to our descriptions. The Russians, Cossacks, and other colonists from Europe, inhabit chiefly the towns and military stations of Siberia. Some of them are descended from the soldiers employed in the conquest of the country; other are criminals sent thither in banishment. To these two classes are to be...
